

demon tweeks

OMP

OMP Custom Race Suits

This document details instructions for the OMP One S and First Evo custom design race suits.

You can choose the colours and add your own logos to make your new race suit more personalised to your requirements. The steps to order are below.

Step 1 – Choose Your Colours

Using the same design layout as the standard model race suit, this custom version allows you to choose your own combination of colours to match your requirements. The suit has been divided into sections, each of which have their own colour palettes to choose from (see pictures at the end of this document for colour options for both the One S and First Evo suits) There are different colours available to choose from on the main body of the suit, while stretch panels in the middle of the back and groin area as well as the arm and leg cuffs can also be customised.

Step 2 – Adding Logos

Not only can you select which colours you would like, the ability to add your own logos is included in the price of the suit. In total, you can add up to 5 logos, with one large and four small logos available. These logos can be placed anywhere on the main body of the suit. You can also have your name, country flag and blood type embroidered onto the belt of the suit.

Step 3 – Placing Your Order

Once you have an idea of how you would like your suit to look, you are nearly ready to order. You now need to decide on the size of the suit. The Custom suit is available in the standard OMP range of sizes from 44-64 or if you require a more bespoke fitting suit you can select the made to measure option for an additional cost. Once you have ordered your new suit, a member of our sales team will be in touch with you to discuss your colour and logo requirements and guide you through the process including getting the correct size for you.

OMP First Evo Custom Options Guide and Design Template

OMP One S Custom Options Guide and Design Template

Still having issues?

If you are struggling designing your own suit or have any questions, contact us via any of the methods below. Or come and visit us at our store in Wrexham to try suits on for that perfect fit.

Email – sales@demon-tweeks.com

Phone – 01978 664466

Store Information | Demon Tweeks